

Sincere thanks from the Esri family

David is one of my heroes. His life has been one of dedication, and contribution...doing practical science...data modeling, analytics and tool building that underpins so much of our field today. ...and he did it with a kind of sparkle and enthusiasm for his work that has and continues to gets me excited and motivated to do more with my life. Jack Dangermond

And, even in retirement, David continues to contribute and deliver extraordinary breakthroughs. And throughout his work he has made it fun for all of us. Clint Brown
